

I think only the people I give my phone number to should be able to call me. I don't believe that I should be bothered at home with phone calls from telemarketers. If I am at my business that is a different story.